GIANTIC SALVAGE PROBLEM

BILLIONS of board feet of lumber, rapidly deteriorating in abandoned farm buildings throughout the prairie provinces, will go to total waste within the next few years unless farmers or agricultural officials inaugurate a gigantic scheme of salvage. The buildings, each growing more dilapidated by the month, range from abandoned houses to obsolete barns. Salvage of the lumber would run into billions of board feet and add a tidier spot to many farm places.

The greatest wastage of lumber was caused as hundreds of farm families, enjoying easier methods of transportation, moved from their farm homes to city dwellings. In these cases only the porches and some storage buildings have been kept in repair. The lumber wastage, unfortunately, will continue unless some scheme for salvage gains the promotional help of agricultural officials or the farmers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gasti motored to Red Deer over the week end to attend the 70th Anniversary of the arrival of the Gatz family in that town, three brothers of which settled there in 1883. Commemorative church services were held, a picnic took place at the site of the original river crossing, and a banquet which was attended by 80 descendants of the family, coming from all parts of the country, and including one from California.

A NEW PRESSURE GROUP GOES TO WORK

Generally speaking, Canada has long been considered free of materially financed political lobbies with equally mysterious ends in view.

This creates the belief that it is in the best interests of this nation, and of every true Canadian citizen, that this continues to be true.

Therefore we urge all citizens either to ignore utterly, or to regard with the keenest suspicion, the activities of a new organization going under the strange name of "Canadians for Non-Recognition of Red China."

This organization, whatever it is, is now engaged in peddling, through large newspaper advertisements, the identical line of propaganda as the notorious China Lobby in the United States, which opposes any recognition of the government of Communist China, now or ever, and simultaneously screams for unlimited support of Chiang Kai-shek and his army.

At the very least, it is asking for a
